

Postdoctoral Fellowship at Cira Center for Behavioral Health

Cira Center for Behavioral Health (CCBH) is a growing group practice located in Chicago's Loop looking to hire a full time Clinical Psychology Postdoctoral Fellow.

Clinical Work:

- Primary responsibilities will be in conducting intake assessments and providing individual, couple, family, and group psychotherapy with the age and gender spectrum. Must be able to treat or be open to treating (with supervision) individuals, children, adolescents, families, and couples.
- Sessions are currently being conducted on a hybrid model (in-person from our Loop office and via Telehealth) and staff can expect to be in the office 2-3 days a week.
- An interest, experience, and/or basic knowledge about working with trauma survivors.
- Graduated with a doctorate in psychology (Ph.D. or Psy.D.).
- Willing to work at least 3 evenings OR 2 evenings and a Saturday.
- Applicants who have experience in women's issues/health and/or trauma and/or are EMDR trained will be given special consideration.

Values Work:

- We are relational, not just with our clients, but with each other. We acknowledge our own messy humanness and see each other's vulnerabilities and struggles as an opportunity to connect, not a problem to fix or solve. We assume best intentions, but can also honestly and respectfully discuss impact.
- We believe that each of us brings a menagerie of intersecting identities, some of which are privileged and some of which are marginalized. When someone tells us something about their lived experience we move away from skepticism and lean into belief. We believe people when they tell us about their experiences. Period. Full stop.
- We move away from perfectionism and lean into LEARNING, not expecting ourselves or others to do or say everything "right", knowing that anytime we assume there even is a "right way", we are likely embodying white supremacy. We understand that expectations of perfection make us fragile so by focusing on learning instead, we are able to sidestep shame, defensiveness, hopelessness, and paralysis.

Team Work:

- Identifies as a team player and problem solver who feels comfortable taking initiative.
- Enjoys supervision, consultation and collaboration.
- Is active on Slack, our internal communications platform, reading and responding to Teammates in a timely manner (for the most part, this replaces most email obligations).
- Steps up for volunteer events/positions as necessary and based on interest in the topics
- Excited to get to know their teammates and spend time together at quarterly work social events and build community virtually.

Benefits:

- Fantastic location on Michigan Avenue across from Millennium Park. The Loop office is housed in an impeccable building with tons of great amenities.
- You will be an employee of CCBH, which includes benefits like PTO, major medical Blue Cross Blue Shield insurance, 401K contributions, and compensation towards continuing education training.
- All caseload building, marketing (including a Psychology Today profile and social media marketing) scheduling, and billing are taken care of for you.
- A paper-free existence! Everything we do is electronic, and documentation is very minimal.
- Weekly individual supervision.
- A highly collaborative, relational, and fun working environment.
- Opportunity to supervise a graduate student.
- Possibility for a full-time position upon completion of the fellowship.
- Competitive salary of $52,000, in-house CEU trainings, and benefits including 10 PTO days and 10 major holidays paid

Postdoc Fellowship Experience at CCBH

Expectations:

- Full-time position of 40 hours a week over 12 months.
- Thursdays are mandatory, as are 3 evenings or 2 evenings and a Saturday. However, you will have a lot of schedule autonomy and we will work to create a schedule that fits your life and the needs of our clients.
- Billing minimum of 23/week, so you can expect to be seeing 25+/week.
- Sessions are currently being conducted in person from our Loop office or via Telehealth remotely. We expect to remain in a hybrid (in-person and virtual) model as long as it remains safe to do so and clients continue to look for both modalities.

Benefits:

- 1 hour of individual supervision per week by a licensed clinical psychologist.
 - 1-1.5 hours of CEUs + certificates per month will be provided to you through in-house training.
 - Opportunity to supervise an advanced practicum student.
 - Salary is $52,000, which includes 10 PTO days and 10 major holidays paid
